

NASA @ Your Library

The NASA @ Your Library exhibit features an interactive computer station and a media tower. The computer station features six iMac® computers, each addressing one of the following topics: Shuttling to Space, Business in Space, Science in Space, Laboratory in Space, Living in Space, and Future in Space. The media tower displays four DVD presentations that highlight NASA's contributions to health, home and transportation, environment and agriculture, and commerce. The computer station and the media tower can each be displayed independently.
