SUBJECT: Determination Regarding Attendance by NASA Employees at the 2008 Future Forum in San Jose, California on May 14, 2008

During 2008, NASA and other aerospace leaders are sponsoring a series of Future Forums throughout the United States. Specific sites include: Seattle, Washington; Columbus, Ohio; Miami, Florida; San Francisco, California; Boston, Massachusetts; and Chicago, Illinois. These forums will consist of NASA leadership, astronauts, scientists, and engineers, along with local business, technology, and academic leaders and local, state, and Federal officials. They will discuss the role of space exploration in advancing science, engineering, technology, and education for the benefit of local communities and the nation. These presentations will feature an exciting preview of NASA's Constellation Program and will highlight America's future plans for space exploration.

On May 14, 2008, the Tech Museum of Innovation in San Jose, California, will host a Future Forum. The co-sponsors of the event are NASA, the Tech Museum of Innovation, Raytheon, Symantec, Nortel, Microsoft, Lockheed-Martin and Sun Microsystems. Approximately 300 people have registered to attend the forum featuring panel discussions, an astronaut presentation, and a lunch with a keynote presentation by Shana Dale, the NASA Deputy Administrator. Registered attendees include members of the public; media; aerospace industry; scientific community; NASA employees; local, state, and Federal officials; and academia. The per person cost is approximately $10 for breakfast, $2 for refreshments, and $25 for lunch.

I find that this event meets the requirements of a "widely attended gathering" as defined in 5 C.F.R. § 2635.204(g). I further determine that there is an Agency interest in having NASA personnel attend the event because they will have the opportunity to share views on the Constellation Program and discuss other NASA projects and their results. Accordingly, NASA employees whose duties do not substantially affect the sponsors may accept an invitation for free attendance to the event, including breakfast, refreshments, and lunch.

NASA employees whose duties may substantially affect the sponsors, such as by way of procurement duties, should seek an individual determination pursuant to 5 C.F.R. § 2635.204(g)(3)(i) regarding participation in this event from a NASA Headquarters ethics counselor.
