

FD13 MMT Summary

The MMT met briefly to review orbiter systems and mission progress. The 5th EVA had just completed, and the mission continues to progress extremely well. Manual CDRA operations continue, but a simpler way to patch the software to enable automatic operations has been developed. Thus the team will look for a good opportunity to load the patch that could be as soon as tonight or as late as undock day.

The MMT was polled and is unanimously GO for undock.
