Finding Balance in Your Life

Kathryn Adkins, Ed.M., center, a Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor, described the various components which make up a “balanced” life during a Brown Bag Lunch Time Seminar on March 22. She described a balanced life that included physical and mental health, being productive, having satisfying relationships, and peace of mind. The Federal Women’s Program, Women of Wallops, (WOW), sponsored the seminar. Also pictured, are Terry Ewell, (left), and Kathryn Redden of the WOW.

Inspire the Next Generation

NASA, the Navy SCSC, U.S. Coast Guard, National Wildlife Refuge and NOAA will hold Inspire the Next Generation Day on April 27.

Inspire the Next Generation Day allows children to explore careers in the federal workforce and observe women and men working together in professional environments.

Some work areas may not be appropriate for this activity. Employees should check with their supervisor(s) before agreeing to sponsor a child.

Participation is open to all youth in the 4th through 12th grades. The day starts at 8 a.m. with registration and a welcome at 8:30 a.m. in the Cropper Center.

Sponsors must be government employees. Contractors are welcome but should contact their management for approval to participate.

For further information or to register contact Ed Parrott at x1681.
