

AGENCY ANTI-HARASSMENT VIRTUAL TRAINING

The Office of Diversity and Equal Opportunity is pleased to provide an exciting and highly innovative virtual training on NASA's Anti-Harassment Program. Through a series of workplace-related scenarios, rendered using gamification techniques such as avatars, this training module provides a great overview of the program for the entire workforce. It helps us all better understand that we each have a role to play in addressing harassment before it adversely impacts our workplace and in preventing it where possible. The training, currently available in SATERN, is titled "Agency Anti-Harassment Program Virtual Training."