

National Aeronautics and Space Administration

COMMERCIAL
CREW

LAUNCH AMERICA

FACE OF THE FUTURE

Doug Hurley

www.nasa.gov

DOUG HURLEY
NASA ASTRONAUT

Current Assignment: Training for a Commercial Crew flight test to the International Space Station on Boeing's CST-100 Starliner and SpaceX's Crew Dragon

Hometown: Apalachin, New York

Education: Tulane University

Flight Training: 5,000 hours in more than 25 aircraft

Time in Space: 28 days

Miles Travelled: 11.8 million

Missions: STS-127 and STS-135 delivering the Japanese Exposed Facility and the Multi-Purpose Logistics Module Raffaello to ISS

Achievements: 1st Marine pilot to fly the F/A-18 E/F Super Hornet, last pilot of the Space Shuttle, Legion of Merit

Previous Assignments: Pilot, Shuttle Cape Crusader, NASA Director of Operations at the Gagarin Cosmonaut Training Center in Star City, Russia, and Assistant Director for Flight Operations

Military Experience: F/A-18 pilot, Weapons and Tactics Instructor, Navy Test Pilot School, F-18 A-F Flight Test, retired USMC Colonel

Hobbies: Family time in the Texas Hill Country and hunting