International Space Station

Off the Earth, for the Earth

...and in the classroom!
Welcome aboard STEM on Station, your connection to the International Space Station. Check out the website to find out how to bring space into your classroom, with lesson plans, videos and up-to-the-minute education news. Visit often and watch for opportunities to connect to the space station and the research conducted onboard in addition to other great resources.

For more information, please visit:
www.nasa.gov/stemonstation