

Vision, Mission, and Goals

VISION

Provide expert financial stewardship and oversight to enable NASA's success.

MISSION

As stewards of NASA's financial resources, the Office of the Chief Financial Officer provides expert financial and budgetary advice, analysis, operations, internal controls, strategic planning, and policies to ensure effective decision making, trustworthy advice and reliable outcomes.

Goal 1 Ensure stewardship of the taxpayer's investment entrusted to NASA to advance and achieve the Agency's strategic goals, priorities, and missions.	Goal 2 Lead and develop a robust analytical community and capability that supports and empowers the Agency mission.	Goal 3 Develop and engage the Enterprise workforce to enable the NASA of the future.
Objectives: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Deliver timely, reliable, and relevant products and services in support of the Agency's budget and financial operations, quality controls, and independent strategic analyses. 2. Enhance communications and transparency with stakeholders and customers. 	Objectives: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Improve analytics and sharing of information across Center and organizational barriers. 2. Cultivate an engaged workforce through improving vertical and horizontal communications within the Center, OCFO Enterprise, and across the Agency. 3. Create opportunities for continued learning and employee development. 4. Foster a culture of diversity, inclusion, and unity. 	Objectives: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Identify and develop needed capabilities for the OCFO of the future. 2. Continue to optimize OCFO processes and systems for efficiency and effectiveness, while balancing appropriate customer value, quality, and cost. 3. Align optimization with Agency priorities.