STS-129 is the first space shuttle flight for Bresnik, Satcher and Wilmore.

The Mission

Space shuttle Atlantis will deliver two Express Logistics Carriers, containing two spare gyroscopes, two nitrogen tank assemblies and other hardware to the International Space Station. During the 11-day mission, crew members will perform three spacewalks to attach spare parts to the station.

This is the 129th space shuttle flight, the 31st flight to the space station and Atlantis' 31st flight.
