INFINITY Science Center is bringing Outreach STEM to the coastal Mississippi Library Systems. We have partnered with Hancock, Harrison, and the City of Long Beach Library systems to bring NASA is With You When you Fly and Moon to Mars to branch communities for children 6-16 and to hold STEMfest at INFINITY Science Center each spring during the grant program at no cost to those who attend the library sessions. By bringing STEM experiences to the libraries we can reach diverse populations and encourage STEM-related career paths and interest.
