Five Idaho suppliers contributed to NASA's Artemis program. An example of the state's contributions is manufacturing supplies for Exploration Ground Systems (EGS) based at NASA's Kennedy Space Center in Florida.

The DC-8 flies low over the Antelope Valley during its final flight before it is retired from NASA's Armstrong Flight Research Center Building 703 in Palmdale, California, to Idaho State University in Pocatello, Idaho. The DC-8 will provide real-world experience to train future aircraft technicians at the college's Aircraft Maintenance Technology Program.
