

OFFICE OF SMALL BUSINESS PROGRAMS at Glenn Research Center

NASA's Glenn Research Center (GRC) in Cleveland, OH, actively supports small business engagement through its Office of Small Business Programs (OSBP). The GRC OSBP is dedicated to maximizing opportunities for small businesses to participate in NASA's contracts and projects. By providing essential resources, training, and guidance, the office helps small businesses navigate the complexities of the procurement process and align their innovative capabilities with NASA's research and development needs. This collaboration ensures that small businesses contribute to advancements in aerospace technology, aeronautics, and space exploration, fostering economic growth and job creation while enhancing NASA's mission objectives.
