

OFFICE OF SMALL BUSINESS PROGRAMS at Kennedy Space Center

NASA's Kennedy Space Center (KSC) in Florida actively engages small businesses through its Office of Small Business Programs (OSBP). The KSC OSBP is committed to providing opportunities for small enterprises to participate in NASA contracts, ensuring they play a vital role in the Center's space launch operations and research activities. By offering resources, training, and support, the office assists small businesses in navigating the procurement process and aligning their innovative solutions with NASA's requirements. This engagement helps advance aerospace technology and space exploration while promoting economic growth and job creation within the small business community.

CENTER MISSION

Kennedy Space Center provides continuous access to space from Earth's premier spaceport through creativity and innovation.

KSC is a premier multi-user spaceport with more than 90 private-sector partners and nearly 250 partnership agreements. The presence of commercial companies at NASA's Kennedy Space Center is larger than ever before, enabling the Center to embark on a new era of space exploration. Although Kennedy is the Agency's main launch site, it also is home to facilities that research and develop innovative solutions that government and commercial space ventures need for working and living on the surfaces of the Moon and other bodies in our solar system.
